Thanks Frank. Glad to hear they are being considered.

Hope I wasn't out of line asking if a J.I.G. has been officially stood up (given the multiple jurisdictions that event is potentially going to cross, including intra-provincial borders and bridges)

And given potential size ("110 klm convoy" mentioned multiple times), I found the intel a little sporadic. (maybe I've just been too long out of the DI game....)

Absolutely appreciate that things are developing fast and on multiple fronts and robust nimbleness is the name of the game.

Mike

Hi Mike

Unsure about ESU – did not hear anything about it .. I left Eli a message to see if they were approached. Oh, and he just replied; that they have not yet.. (I anticipate they will)

The only thing I heard about ABD was that it was their contingency plan... no firm answer.

Hey Frank, it didn't get answered on call. Is ESU activated for this weekend and if so, is it a full activation? (I appreciate that Russ was not on call to direct question to)

We did get confirmation that the ABD side are not being used(at least at this point, regardless of the multiple references to mirroring Canada Day Plan)
